Turnkey Design

A turnkey LCD solution is a project built so that the end customer is sold a completed LCD product, ready for use. It is our specialty to take on the responsibility for designing and developing a product that is ready to be used upon completion.

We have a team of experts ready to take on any challenging turnkey LCD need you have. AGDisplays offers in-house assembly, testing and quality measures, packaging and drop ship capabilities. We are able to accommodate small and large volume production quantities.

LCD turnkey projects involve kitting LCD peripherals and components or just selling commercial off the shelf LCD products that are applicable across all industries.
